Honoring a Trailblazer: Dr. Mary Edwards Walker

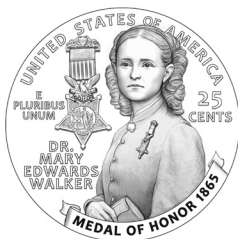

Town of Oswego native Dr. Mary Edwards Walker was the first female surgeon in the U.S. Army and the only woman – to date – to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor for her “meritorious service.”

She was born on Nov. 26, 1832 to parents Alvah and Vesta who valued education and encouraged free thinking for all of their children. She would go on to become the second woman to graduate from Syracuse Medical College in 1855 and advocate for women’s suffrage and dress reform.

A pioneer of women’s rights, Dr. Walker wore what she wanted. She abandoned the unhealthy long dresses and corsets of the day to wear clothes fashioned after men’s attire. She also believed that the right to vote was granted to women in the original Constitution and they did not need an amendment.

In 1912, The New York Times wrote of Dr. Walker: “She had a sort of dignity about her, an essential goodness.” She died at her home on Feb. 21, 1919, and rests within Oswego Town Rural Cemetery.

In the years Dr. Walker several honors her image postage stamp Congress re-Hill in Virginia first American for a woman. regards her began to break of gender and ranks. In June of appear on a quarter courtesy of the U.S. Mint’s “American Women Quarters Program.”

Close friend Dr. Bertha Van Hoosen once said, “Dr. Mary’s life should stand out to remind us that when people do not think as we do, do not dress as we do, and do not live as we do, that they are more than likely to be a half a century ahead of their time, and that we should have for them not ridicule but reverence.”
