SCOPE OF THE EXAM: The exam will consist of two parts: a written test and a database performance test (will be held at a later date). The written exam takes up to 3 hours and is designed to test for knowledge, skills, and/or abilities in such areas as:

1. Clerical operations with letters and numbers: These questions are designed to test a candidate's visual perception and basic clerical accuracy in working with alphanumeric characters. The candidate is required to read, compare, check, reorder, and count letters and numbers following specific directions for each question. Knowledge of the alphabet and the ability to count are required;

2. Arithmetic computation: These questions are designed to test a candidate's ability to perform basic computations using addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division. Questions may also involve the use of fractions, decimals, averages, and percents. Word problems are not included in these questions.

3. Arithmetic reasoning: These questions are designed to test a candidate's ability to solve an arithmetic problem presented in sentence or short paragraph form. The candidate must read the problem, understand the situation presented, decide what must be done to solve it, and apply the appropriate arithmetic operation(s) in the appropriate order in order to determine the correct solution. Knowledge of addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division is necessary. Questions may also involve the use of percents, decimals, and fractions.

PERFORMANCE TEST: A qualifying performance test will be held at a later date, to be announced. The test will be administered on a conventional personal computer (PC) with a standard keyboard to perform various clerical tasks using a pre-established database. This test will consist of three parts, with a practice session immediately preceding the first two test sections. Your rating (pass/fail) on this test will be based on the amount of material completed and on the accuracy of that material. Candidates will only be called to the performance test if they passed the written test. The County reserves the right to test only those candidates who are needed to fill available vacancies. More specific information about the test will be supplied to all approved candidates before the test date.

WAIVERS: The database performance test may be waived for candidates who have qualified on a NYS prepared database clerk performance test within the past four years. Candidates requesting waivers must provide exam title, test date and, if the test was administered by an agency other than Oswego County, written notice from the testing agency stating exam date and test results within 14 days of the written exam.

CONTINUOUS RECRUITMENT: Applications are accepted continuously with exams being given as needed. When an exam is announced, applications for that date must be filed no later than the announced last filing date. The Department of Personnel reserves the right to terminate this special recruitment program at any time. Review of questions or appeal of ratings will not be allowed, as the opportunity for retest exists. Candidates may reapply to retake the written exam (6) six months after the date of their last written test.

ELIGIBLE LISTS: Successful candidates in this examination will have their names placed on the eligible list in the order of final scores, regardless of the date on which they filed or took the examination.
